Objective

Earn a reporting position that will allow me to draw on my deep sources to break news and produce thoughtful analyses of legislative, administrative and political affairs that both illuminate the public and shape the debate in Washington.

Journalism Experience

Staff Correspondent – National Journal

August 2014 - Present

- Lead a young team of reporters in producing dynamic and original Congressional reporting, with an emphasis on breaking news across a wide range of policy and political beats.
- Focus principally on Speaker Nancy Pelosi's stewardship of the House amid historic progressive gains and the implications on health care, the budget and the appropriations process.

Staff Writer – CQ-Roll Call

February 2010 - August 2014

- Produced daily stories for the web and developed long-form pieces for a weekly magazine focusing on how and why House leadership sets and implements their public policy agenda.
- As a House leadership reporter, broke news for the web and a daily newspaper focusing on House leadership's political considerations in managing the chamber and the body's personalities and internal conflicts.
- As a campus reporter, covered the Capitol complex as a workplace, focusing on legislative branch appropriations, Capitol maintenance, crime, Capitol Police issues and labor disputes.

Coordinator – KJZZ Teen Radio Project

September 2008 - June 2009

- Taught students to produce teen-oriented radio pieces for the local NPR affiliate.
